

Angular Developer (F/M/X)

Are Angular and front-end your things ?

Do you look forward to regularly joining new, highly skilled teams and learning a lot from them?

Is open communication about your desired career path a must?

If so, join ACENSI as an Angular Developer !

What will you do ?

- Evaluate designs, wireframes and other deliverables during the design and user experience phase for potential development issues
- Collaborate with the designer to plan front-end functionality
- Review work for performance and compliance with accessibility standards
- Evaluation, development and integration of new technologies
- Proposal of solutions according to customers' expectations and constraints
- Creation and transmission of documentation
- Various analyses of architectures and developments
- Web management with Angular

What are your skills ?

- You have a Degree in Informatics (Bachelor or Master level)
- You have at least one year of experience in an equivalent position.
- Knowledge of JS languages and frameworks: Angular / React / Vue
- Ability to estimate time and level of effort for development tasks
- Familiarity with jQuery and other JavaScript libraries
- You speak English and French fluently. Speaking Dutch would be an asset